

#10

Olivia Rose

CISO and Owner, Rose CISO Group

Olivia Rose is an award-winning cybersecurity leader and three-time global Chief Information Security Officer (CISO). She is the founder of the Rose CISO Group (www.rosecisogroup.com), a boutique security company delivering exceptional virtual CISO, board communications, and strategic services to Fortune 1000 companies.

Before founding Rose CISO Group, Olivia was a 21-year security industry veteran, including 17 years as a virtual CISO and strategic advisor for Fortune 1000 companies. Olivia sits on the Board of Directors for Cyversity, an organization dedicated to the consistent representation of women and underrepresented minorities in the cybersecurity industry through programs designed to diversify, educate, and empower.

At Cyversity, Olivia launched and now leads the Mentorship Program with over 500 participants and holds numerous IT, Privacy, and Security certifications, and is an active participating member of several industry groups. Olivia has been featured in Fortune magazine and is regarded as a thought leader in the industry.